NOTES ON EDUCATION.

Fisk University has just graduated its first college class of two young men and two young women. The closing of the Nebraska University is advocated on the ground that it does not accomplish its

It is proposed to open a School of Natural History in Cleveland July 6. The term will last four or eve weeks.

There are at present 75 Freshmen in Union Oollege. The Alumni are said to be taking a growing in terest in the College.

At a recent teachers' meeting in New Hampshire, public libraries in direct connection with schools were advocated, and the formation of "book clubs" was advised.

Complaint is toade in Chicago that the equally competent feminine teachers in the High School receive only half the salaries paid to the masculine teachers for, in some cases, easier and less important work.

The meeting last week of a number of Alumni of William and Mary College was enthusiastic and effective. A permanent organization was formed, and Gen. William B. Taliaferro elected President. The Association will meet again at William and Mary College Commencement, July 1.

In Wisconsin every woman of the age of 21 years and upward, residing in the district within which the duties of the office are to be performed, is eligible to the following school offices: Director, treasurer, and clerk of school districts; director and secretary of town boards, under the township system of school government; member of a board of education in cities, and sounty superintendent of schools.

The following lectures for the Senior Class at Union College have been provided thus far by the Cather-ine L. Wolfe Art Foundation: Architecture, by Prof. Cady Staley (six lectures); The English Language, by Prof. Sciah H. Howell (twelve lectures); Art Criticism, by Prof. Wendell L'Amoreux (three lectures) ; Arabian Art. by President Coppee, incidental to his course of lectures upon the Arab Moors in Spain; and five lectures upon the institutes of international law.

Referring to the proposal to create by law the office of State Medical Inspector of Schools, The Detroit Tribune says: "Let our Boards of Health be constituted of men of the requisite medical and scientific at-tainments, and full of public spirit and the ambition to do good, and let there be a hearty and sympathetic coopera-tion between these Boards and those of Education, and more efficient work can be done than it would ever be possible for a Medical School Inspector to accomplish."

The course in advanced political economy which is to be one of the electives at Harvard next year, offers a second year of study on this subject for those who pass in either of the two courses given this year.

"Cairne's Principles of Practical Economy" will be the basis of the new course, involving re-examination and application of the leading doctrines discussed by Mill. Cary's system will also be studied, showing the subject as it is seen from the extreme protectionist point of view.

The examinations for admission to Harvard will be held July 1, 2, and 3. Candidates for admission in 1876 and thereafter will be examined in all the studies required for admission this year, and also in one of the three following subjects in elementary science: 1. Elementary science: mentary Botany; 2. Rudiments of Physics or Chemistry; 3. Rudiments of Physics and Descriptive Botany. The selection of the subject will be left with the canditate This requisition will form the sixteenth subject in both courses of preparatory study.

A daily talk between teacher and pupils on some subject of general information is suggested by The Chicago Teacher. It advises that 5, 10, or 15 minutes be given to this talk every day, and adds: time for such an exercise is at the beginning of the after-noon session. The scholars are upt to come in at that time out of breath and excited with hard play, not in a fit condition to commence hard study at once. The teacher can take all sorts of subjects, or, if he choose, can have a regular series. Occasionally he can tell or read a story, or give the particulars of some fresh item of im-
